HE WILL PUSH THE WAR

Peace Proposals Don't Upset General Otis' Plans.

NOW FORTIFYING HIS LINES

Result of the Conference Between the Enemy's Representatives and the United States Commission. Aguinaldo Threatened. .

Manilla, May 1.-While the general expectation among Americans is that Filipino emissaries will return with revised proposals from General Antonio Luna, Major General Otia is not letting this prospect interfere with his preparations for pushing the war.

He has ordered Major General Lawton to return to Angat, a few miles northwest of Norzgaray, and not to advance aggressively while the negotiations are pending. General MacArthur is apparently acting on the same policy, hut he is repairing bridges and strengthening the lines of his forces, which are stretched out, with a 4-mile front and within a quarter of a mile of the railroad.

The possibilities of peace are gratifying to a large majority of the army, who regarded the war as an unpleasant duty that must be performed according to American traditions. Manilla la cheerful over the prospect of a return to normal life, though there are skeptics who remark that a truce would enable the insurgenta to rest until the rainy season, upon which they have been depending as an important aid.

The prisonera report that there are 75,000 refugees north of San Fernando. This is not impossible, considering the thickly populated region which the Americans have cleared. It seems also that smallpox is spreading among them.

The so-called Filipino congress will meet at San Fernando.

When Dean C. Woreester of the United States Philippine commission, who accompanied the Fillpino emissaries from Calumpit, said to Colonel Arguelies that the Americans were under no obligations to refrain from fighting, the Filipino officer replied:

Would you fight while we are discussing terms of peace?"

Mr. Worcester responded with the suggestion that an armistice would give the Filipino leaders time to escape

"My God, where would we escape to?" the Fillpino exclaimed, referring in this to the menacing hostile tribes behind the Filipino lines. Colonel Arguelles said that he was much disappointed in the results of his mission. He said that Aguinaldo expected Calumpit to be the cemetery of the American army.

Lieutenant Colonel Wallace of the First Montana regelment, Major Adams and Major Shields, who slept on Friday night in General Luna's camp, where they went to inform the Filipinos that their envoys would return in safety, found the Filipino commander cordial, the Filipino troops removing their hats as the Americans passed. The Filipinos complained to them that the Americans used explosive hullets, which is not the fact. The American officers retorted that the copper shells used hy the Filipinos are worse than explosive bullets. General Luna said he regretted to he obliged to kill Americans, but that was his business. General Wheaton entertained Colonel Arguelles and Licutenant Jose Bernal, and provided them with horses to return to their camp. In the course of the conference Jacob C. Schurman, chairman of the United States Philippine commission, told Colonel Arguelles that if the Filipinos would now lay down their arma he and his colleagues of the commission would consult them regarding the plan of government to be auhmitted to President McKlnley. He said he could not promise that all their suggestions would be adopted, but he could assure them that there would be a presumption in favor of their auggestions, adding that the commissionera would be especially desirous of satisfying the legitimate aspirations of the Filipinos.

It Is God's Will That They Return to Africa and Civilize the Natives.

Athens, Ga., May 1.—Bishop Henry H. Turner, a leading figure in the African Methodist Episcopal ehurch, preached to the colored people at the Bethel church and to the white people at the courthouse. The sermon to the negroes urged the negroes to conduct themselves aright and to teach their children to observe law and re-

During the address to the white people Bishop Turner said he would rather his people were again in slavery with the protection it afforded than in their present condition. He said the negro was brought here and given civilization in order that he might go to Africa and civilize those people. It was his opinion that the great question would not be settled until the negro obeyed God's manifest will and returned to Africa.

OVER SIXTY PEOPLE CAUGHT

Three Killed Outright, a Dozen Seriously and Fifty Slightly Injured Ia a Bad Wreck on the Old Buy Road.

Rochester, May 1. - Three persons were killed, more than a dozen seriously injured, and 50 more or less seriously hurt as the result of a Wreck oa the Rochester and Lake Ontario railroad, better known as the Bay railroad at Rosenbauer's Corners, about one and one-half miles north of the eity line.

Two cars on an excursion train filled with passengers left the track while rounding a curve at full speed, and were completely wrecked.

The dead: John Helberg, 20; J. Tierney, 24; unknown man.

The train, which was erowded with excursionists bound for different points along the shores of Lake Ontario in the Irondequoit bay distrlet, left the bay station about 15 minutes late. Every seat in the coaches was filled and a large number of people were standing on the platforms. The train was made up of an engine, one closed and two open coaches. There is a grade of about 100 yards, and when this grade was reached the speed of the train increased perceptibly.

Down the grade swept the train, its speed increasing constantly. When the far curve was reached the engine rounded it with startling rapidlty. Next to the engine was the closed carriage divided into two compartmenta, and when it reached the curve it veered over to the north and rode around the curve on the left wheels. It had gone over but a part of the bend in the track when it left the track and ahot straight ahead. There was a sudden crash as the couplings hetween the coach and the engine were severed; then the coach veered over and plowed through the earth for several feet before dropplng on its side in front of the Ridge Road hotel.

MANY TOWNS ARE TOUCHED

Accompanied by Hall and Lightning, the High Winds and Heavy Ralus Wrought Much Damage to Property and Crops.

Omaha, May 1.-Sunday was a day of severe storms in Nebraska and all sorts of rumors are coming into Omaha about damage done by the wind.

For the past three days gales have prevailed throughout the state, accompanied by rain and in a few places hail. ln western Nebraska dust storms made life well-nigh unendurable and started prairie fires, which did considerable damage. Severe thunderstorms prevailed in the eastern part of the state. At Omaha the rainfall was the heaviest known for years at this season, doing some damage to property and washing out sewers in some parts of the city.

Along the line of the Union Pacific the wind has done considerable harm. At North Platte 100 telegraph poles were prostrated. At Valparaiso, in Saunders county, a wind approaching the proportions of a tornado demolished some farm buildings and killed some stock. Wahoo, the county seat of Saunders county, reports slight damage by wind. Heavy rains, accompanied by strong winds, are reported at Fairbury, Geneva, Fremont, Columbus and Schuyler. At Ellinwood hundreds of window panes were broken, the skylights in the Hotel Wolf were blown off, and most everything loose was earried away. The wind came from the west and blew at a terrific rate all day.

A TALE OF LKWAISTS.

These waists appeal to people who wish extra good things. Others may be interested but not so appreciative. No advertiser can put this offer before you as it should he. To say "waists below regular price" doesn't do the facts justice hecause you have no means of knowing what the regular price ought to he-in what the real goodness of the waists consist. The best that can be done is to give you the bare facts. These waists are new-less than six weeks from the maker. Each waist is a style of this minute. The materials are excellent. The work is from a manufacturer who has built up a trade of over a million dollars a year on sheer, honest merit. It is not a jumble of odds and ends-it is a new and stylish collection. The materials are fancy Taffetas in chic checks and stripes, trimmed in mellowed taffeta, satln ribbon and fancy buckles. By the rigid Hunt standard we would call these silk wnists most excellent values at $8 and $10-there are two qualities. For this price their former companions have sold and sold quickly, but sizes are much broken and so few waists remain the eight are yours to choose from at $6 and $8. Count material, lining, trimming and making, then see these waists to fully appreciate their beauty and economic worth.

Death Sunday at Noon of One of Maysville's Most Generous Hearted and Most Estimable Women.

After a long and painful illness, Mrs. Emily Graham Gray, widow of the late Hamilton Gray, Jr., died at her residence, corner of Front and Sutton streets, Sunday about noon.

Mrs. Gray had been a patient sufferer from an incurable malady for several years. She had recently returned from 10 a. m. at the residence. Interment in Cincinnati where she had been under special treatment for some time, and, though partially relieved, was in a very critical condition when she reached home. She rallied slightly for a few weeks, but speedily relapsed and Sunday at 12:45 p. m. passed away without struggle or suffering, and conscious to the very last.

She was a woman of remarkable gifts and has left a deep and lasting impression on the community which has known her from her birth. She had inherited in the utmost fulness the brilliant mental endowments of her family, and, notably, the charming conversational gifts which were a delight to a multitude of friends. Of her numerous charities we need not speak. The tradition of her generous and unfailing bounty will long survive in the memories of the humble, the helpless and the poor. Her life bronzes at low prices. Murphy, the jewwas a daily ministry of goodness and eler. charm. National Benefits Derived From the Religion of Chrisi-Our Standing as a Nation.

[W. il. Kuapp in Christian Guide.]

National life is but a type of the manhood fostered by a nation's laws; hence whatever contributes to the betterment of the individual life of a nation is a national benefit.

Are there any such benefits enjoyed by the American people which have come to us through the religion of Christ? We have but to contrast the history of nations less prosperous and desirable to appreciate the principles upon which our government was founded, and whose legitimate fruits are the national benefits

National character, like that of an individual, is the established order of disposition. Questions and things must be treated by nations as well as by individnals; and the accepted order of disposition becomes known as the character of the nation.

Along the line of national character in view of these facts, America presents the strongest arguments the world has known in support of the principles of Christianity in matters of government.

Our people are a conglomeration of all the blood and brain the world affords, and yet, in spite of natural disadvantages arising from this feature of its people, the social advantages of America stand as a model in the eyes of the world. What has been the cause of this uplift? The teachings of Christ and the apostles,

Muscle and iron are useful agencies but they serve a small place in demonstrating the power of a man or a nation. Men are not measured by the size of the waist band, nor do we measure the nation's power by the distance from New York to San Francisco, but by the heaven-born spirit of charity for the oppressed and love for the world.

No nation, on the earth now, or known ried later in the day at Flemingsburg.

to history, ever extended its commerce in so short a time to such proportions as that enjoyed by the American people, going forth with a sense of honor bestowed on them by the Giver of the great commission.
